BOOST

Description of Program

The BOOST program is a ten-week hands on training program for certified minority, women owned business contractors. The goal of the program is to provide training in fundamental areas of construction business management and provides an opportunity to network with other contractors, representatives from participating agencies, Skanska and other relevant business organizations.

The course addresses topics that are challenging for all contractors, including Accounting for Construction, Estimating and more. The format includes actual case studies, group conversations and hands on demonstrations with proven business practices. Course materials are presented by internal and external Skanska subject experts. The program is free to participants.

Re-BOOST

Description of Program

This program takes our previous BOOST graduates and walks them through specific projects from beginning to end with the full project team. Re-BOOST includes break-out sessions that allow graduates to sit with project managers and first-tier contractors to discuss project opportunities. Re-BOOST will not only prepare subcontractors for opportunities on our projects, but will also inform bid packaging to maximize MWBE firm opportunities.
